

What my Students can Expect from Me

I am a firm believer that you must always “practice what you preach” if you expect for anyone to believe in you and/or follow your example.

- ❖ My students can expect that I will be prepared to always do my best.
- ❖ My students can expect that I will keep my hands, feet, and all objects to myself.
- ❖ My students can expect that I too, will listen when someone is speaking.
- ❖ My students can expect that I will treat others with kindness, even if I am not treated kindly.
- ❖ My students can expect to be treated lovingly and fairly, even if I am not shown love and fairness.
- ❖ My students can expect that I will maintain a positive attitude and serve as a role model.
- ❖ My students can expect that I will encourage them to reach the standards. With support and encouragement, every student will show improvement and be successful.
